

Signups open for EMT classes at HCC

A few seats remain open for the spring 2020 emergency medical technician training program at Holyoke Community College.

HCC's EMT Basic Course (EMT-B) will run Jan. 28 through June 2. The program consists of 13 weeks (170-plus hours) of in-class lectures and additional online study, training, field trips and workshops designed to prepare students for the state certification exam. The training takes place on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 6-10 p.m., and select Saturdays, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., at HCC's Center for Health Education and Simulation, 404 Jarvis Ave., Holyoke.

The course covers all aspects of emergency care including patient handling, extrication and communication, and makes extensive use of HCC's medical simulation labs.
