HCC offering tech youth camps during spring break

HOLYOKE – Holyoke Community College is offering youth aged 8 to 14 the opportunity to explore technology-based courses during their April school vacations.

Spring break camp will run Tuesday through Friday, April 18 to 21, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Each camp will meet in person at the Kittredge Center for Business and Workforce Development on the main HCC campus and include half-day and full-day options.

The spring camp courses are Code Breakers, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon; and Python Programmers, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Detailed course descriptions and a registration link can be found on the HCC website at: hcc.edu/youth, where you can also get a preview of what's coming for HCC's Summer 2023 Youth Programs.

Individual classes for the spring are $179 for the week. Children in full-day camp are supervised by HCC staff members during an hour-long lunch break. Lunch is not provided.

HCC is offering the classes in partnership with Black Rocket Productions, and the in-person camps are operated under guidelines of the Mass. Dept. of Public Health. Please note that while HCC is now mask-optional, proof of COVID-19 vaccination is still required to register for on-campus classes until the end of the spring semester.
